What it is, and How Corrected.

Astigmatism or Irregular Vision is one of the most common of all the refractive errors. It is due to the irregular curvature of the film known as the Cornea. Of course no instrument is sufficient to correct it, but in the hands of a thoroughly efficient and competent Eye specialist at the ophthalmometer reveals the exact condition of the eye in a way that nothing else can. NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU HIGH POINT, N. C., July 14.

J. R. Pickett, the bustling grocery man, is the owner of a neat and attractive dray, bearing his name, which will be used in his business.

We return thanks to several friends for invitations to attend the State Firemen's Tournament in Greensboro August 1, 2, 3 and 4. We will come!

Misses Lydia White, Jessie Sims and Mr. Drayton White, of Concord, and Miss Freeman, of Charlotte, spent the day here yesterday with the family of Mr. Ed Caster and returned home at night.

Carl Johnson, of Concord, who is in the city visiting, met with an accident in a game of ball with the "Boston Bloomer girls" when they were in that town, which he has never forgotten. The female pitcher, of that team, struck him accidentally with the ball just over the right ear, which rendered him unconscious and for several weeks he was at the point of death.

Work on W. H. Ragan's dwelling on south Main street is being pushed rapidly. The frame work is nearly all in place.

John M. Hammer, the former clever and handsome clerk at the Benbow hotel, Greensboro, arrived in the city last night.

Miss Ethel Diffeo is visiting near Central Falls. "Bud" Wrenn is rusticated in the neighborhood of Mt. Vernon Springs.

The series of meetings at the Methodist Protestant church came to a close last night. There have been several conversions and two joined the church at the meeting last night.

The trial of Lindsay Croaker for the shooting of Joe Jackson, which happened the evening of the 29th of June, came up before Justices W. B. Steele and J. M. Sechrest yesterday in the mayor's office. Croaker was represented by W. P. Bynum, of Greensboro, and Jackson by J. Matt Hodgecock of this city. The trial lasted several hours after which court was dismissed, the magistrates suspending judgment until 3:30 o'clock in the evening. A warrant of a serious nature has been sworn out by Croaker against Jackson and this trial is scheduled to take place Saturday a week.

We are told that most of the vacancies at the Globe furniture company have been filled.

L. W. McManus, a prominent business man of Macon, Ga., was in town yesterday buying furniture and attending to other business.

Sample Brown, a prominent mercantile man of Greensboro, was a city guest yesterday. We understand that Mr. Brown is contemplating establishing a business house in this city.

Dr. A. P. Staley, the eye specialist and watch maker, who has been engaged in his profession with W. P. Welch, jeweler, has rented space in W. A. King's drug store and will be open for business next Monday.

The bond issue does not raise taxes one cent.

MRS. WALTON, OF ATLANTA,

Author of "One Woman's Life," in the City.

The Telegram today received a pleasant call from Mrs. Mary A. Walton, of Atlanta, a native of North Carolina. She is stopping at the Planter's hotel, and tells us she will be here several weeks in the interest of the book entitled, "One Woman's Life; The Steps of Faith," which she is selling and of which she is the author.

The book is a story of a young woman's struggle, amid many difficulties, through faith to divine grace, and is quite highly recommended, though we have not had the pleasure of reading it. Mrs. Walton has clippings from numerous papers of this and other states, among which is a letter from Rev. J. Rumble, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Salisbury, nicely complimenting her and her work. She has had good success with the book, having sold 1,500 copies.

Hall vs. Fisher.

The case of Hall vs. Fisher occupied almost the entire day in court yesterday. Mr. Hall sued for $2,000 damages for the breach, by Capt. Fisher, of a verbal contract, claiming that when the two traded some property in northwest Greensboro, Fisher agreed to open Walnright street, which he did not do. Col. Jno. N. Staples represented Capt. Fisher and spoke for two hours yesterday morning. He was so lowed at the afternoon session by Judge Bynum, who also made a lengthy speech. The jury returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $1,000.

The bond issue does not raise taxes one cent.

WHAT WE NEED.

Good Streets, Good Water, and Good Lights.

Mr. Editor:—It will afford the citizens of West Greensboro much pleasure to have the opportunity of casting their votes for the bond issue. Often have we felt inclined to grumble, and find fault with "the powers that be" for the bad condition of our streets, forgetting that under existing circumstances it was impossible for them to do better.

Citizens of West End, remember the condition of Spring Garden street last winter and spring, when it was impassable. It was not an uncommon occurrence to see horses stretched out in the mud unable to extricate themselves without assistance. Take no risk by staying from the election, but go and cast your ballots for the issue of bonds, which means good streets, better and cheaper lights, and a better and purer supply of water. The result of these things is a better sanitary condition of our city. Good streets, good water, and good lights is a grand idea, and while we want them at a cost consistent with good business ideas, still—have them we must and have them we will.

Who can compute the value of a good sewerage system? Will some expert mathematician answer the question? Don't forget that it requires a majority of the registered voters of the city to decide in favor of issuing bonds. If you do not vote, your vote will be counted against bond issue.

At some near time in the future, we expect to see the county road force and the city street force meet at the city limits near the Normal College and begin work, the one going in the direction of Lindley's and the other toward the main street of the city. In such an event who among us can fail to exclaim, "Hurrah for Greensboro!"

Street Force Strikes Rock.

The street force, which is engaged in cutting down the hill on lower South Elm, this morning struck a snag in the shape of a vein of rock running diagonally across the street at the intersection of South Elm street. The rock bears a close resemblance to gravel granite and is about six feet wide, two feet deep and fifteen yards long. It runs from M. C. Henley's gate to that of L. M. Clymer. The rock is being blasted out and will be used to macadamize the sidewalks on that part of South Elm.

The Junior Lawn Party.

The Junior Reel Team cleared $21.50 at their lawn party last night. The prize, a two pound box of candy, offered for the prettiest young lady, was awarded to Miss Lena Vanderveer, the charming daughter of Mr. J. L. Vanderveer, she having received the largest number of votes.—Fayetteville Observer.

The lawn party was given by the reel team to raise funds to defray expenses to the tournament.

From Frying Pan to Fire.

Policeman Cofer, of the Winston force, came down yesterday after Early Allen who was wanted in Winston for jerking a pistol from the pocket of J. J. Wrenn, a convict guard. Early has been serving a term on Guilford's roads for jumping a train. His term expired yesterday and the authorities informed the Winston police that they could have him if they would send for him.

Officers Elected.

The new board of directors of the North Carolina Railroad, who met here yesterday, elected J. S. Armstrong, of Wilmington, president of the company, and Judge Spencer B. Adams, of this city, secretary and treasurer. Judge Adams will continue to reside in Greensboro, but will keep a clerk in the office at Burlington.

Tonight!

The lawn of the Academy of Music has been cleared up and will be in excellent condition for the West End base ball team's lawn party tonight. Generous plates of cream and sherbert for five and ten cents. Come out and get the last strawberry cream of the season.

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES

Which Every Citizen of Greensboro Should Carefully Read.

A MOST FAIR PROPOSITION

Made by a Responsible Firm of the City in Regard to the Proposed Bond Issue.

The following is a statement showing why the issue of $300,000 of bonds will not require a raise in the rate of taxation, but rather tend to decrease it:

Estimated cost of water plant $100,000
" " " " " " 25,000
" " " " " " 35,000
Estimated cost of ten miles of macadamized streets..... 75,000
Sewerage..... 65,000

$300,000

Estimated cost to operate both plants from one station..... $ 7,500
5 per cent interest on $300,000 of bonds..... 15,000

$22,500

Rent now paid for water and lights by the city..... $11,000
Estimated income from rent of market and auditorium..... 2,500
Actual income from sale of water to private consumers by private water company..... 8,000

Estimated increase in sales of water to private consumers account of additional sewerage..... 3,250

$24,000

Deduct cost of operating plant and 5 per cent on $15,000..... $22,500

Net profit to city..... $ 2,250

Can't sell the bonds when issued? One of the best and most level-headed business men in the city says that he will contract to take all the bonds at par, and put up a forfeit of ten thousand dollars for performance of his contract.

Can't pay interest without increase of taxation or increase of property valuation? The limit of taxation has been reached already, and both the constitution of North Carolina and the special act authorizing the bond issue expressly forbid any increase of present rate of taxation.

Can't pay interest on bonds and operate water and light plants without a loss? In answer to this objection one of the best business men in the city, who has knowledge and experience in such matters, and who is legally responsible for any contract that he may make for any reasonable sum of money, says that he will enter into a contract to pay the interest on bonds and operate the plants, without cost to the city, for the profits, putting up any reasonable forfeit for performance of contract and good service.

Of the 3,000 cities in the United States having water works 1,500 own their own systems and operate them at a profit. See carefully compiled statistics in a recent decision of the supreme court.

Since 1861 the city of Chicago has made a net profit of $14,000,000 on its water works and has supplied the city with water for fire protection without cost. See recent report of the department of public works of the city of Chicago.

In 1861 Chicago was probably smaller than Greensboro is today. If the water works and electric lights can be operated by separate companies in separate plants at present, at a profit to each, does any sensible man doubt that the two plants could be combined and operated at much less expense and much larger profit by the city?

A REIGN OF TERROR

Following the Recent Attempt to Assassinate Ex-King Milan.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Moscow, July 14.—Dispatches escaped from the vigilance of the censor at Belgrade tell of a reign of terror following the recent attempt to assassinate Ex-King Milan.

Milan has seized upon the attempt made at Bavaria as a pretext and occasion for putting most of his influential enemies out of the way. He receives backing from his son, King Alexander, and purposes to re-enact the atrocities of the Stambuloff regime. Milan is pursuing the best patriots of Serbia, and hundreds of them have been thrown into dungeon. The death sentence is pronounced without the formality of trial. The sentence will be speedily executed unless the powers intercede between Milan and his subjects.

Two New Horses.

The committee from the hook and ladder company succeeded in purchasing a horse yesterday. As stated before, the animal will be put in training at once for the tournament races. The steamer company has also purchased a new horse to be used with the street sprinkler, the black horse formerly used for that work having been taken off by them to practice for the tournament. Both the new horses it is understood will be sold after the tournament is over.

A VITAL QUESTION.

The question to be passed upon at the polls here next Tuesday is of the utmost vital importance to our city. Upon the four people cast their ballots, the future of Greensboro depends. Shall we go backward, or shall we seize this opportunity for greater things—shall we grasp the magnificent possibilities that lie within our reach? To have the bond issue defeated would be to call from the other progressive cities of North Carolina a merited condemnation. But such must not occur. The Telegram has that faith and that pride in the citizenship of Greensboro that assures it the election will be overwhelmingly carried by those who have sincerely at heart, not only the desire to see our city lead all her competitors, but the interests of all classes of our people, from the poor laborer to the wealthy merchant, who will alike receive their proportionate shares of the great sum of money turned loose in our midst. And the beautiful part is that taxes will not be increased one cent.

There will be no unjust discrimination against any section of Greensboro in the expending of the bond money. The issue is for the city.

The following excellent portrayal of the wiles of a well known eastern Carolina republican politician is from the Wilmington Messenger:

"We had almost forgotten Koppel Al. Duckery and his ways. He is busy still trying to misrepresent this congressional district and in two ways: First, by a gross misrepresentation of facts and a free indulgence of his fancy; and, second, by trying to get Bellamy's seat. We be it to any people who has the misfortune and calamity of Al. Duckery for the representative of the white men. This political acrobat who can change his principle as easily as he can his coat, expects to win because the next house is republican. He found red shirts thick in his 'destrick' last year. They were terrible fellows according to Duckery. But Mr. Bellamy made an extraordinary campaign, speaking everywhere and he did not see a single red shirt or 'white government union' man at any of his speakings. But the next house may perchance not be so venal and accommodating as Duckery hopes for, and he may be defeated in his plan to eject the member elected by nearly 6,000 majority. It is certain that if the members are not corrupt, Duckery will never get in. In that event it will happen to him as is described in some old verse:

"He digged a pit,
He digged it deep,
He digged it for his brother;
But, to punish his sin,
He did fall in.
The pit he digged for t'other."

Everybody was glad to hear President Dudley, of the colored A. and M. College, come out so pronouncedly in favor of the bond issue at the mass meeting Tuesday night. All persons of intelligence, who have not a sinister design, will stand by the interests of Greensboro next Tuesday.

A perfect sewerage system and a pure water supply are the deadliest enemies that can oppose the dangerous typhoid. Greensboro will have these things if everybody does his duty to his family and his property next Tuesday.

The colored citizens of the town should vote as one man next Tuesday. They will receive more immediate benefit by the turning of $300,000 into Greensboro's channels of industry than any other class.

No rational man can afford to vote against the bond issue. It is certainly to every one's individual interest to cast his ballot next Tuesday for better water, better lights, better sewerage, and better streets.

The Benbow hotel would have been saved if the firemen had had a sufficient pressure of water. Vote for better water and more of it.

Greensboro is now discussing a proposition to issue bonds to buy its system of water works. Every city ought to own its water supply, and in every instance where good management has been secured, it has been profitable to the city. Municipal ownership is coming everywhere.—Raleigh News and Observer.

Hired Opinions.

The hired legal opinions concerning the constitutionality of the proposed amendment contradict the report scattered through this section. The reports scattered about here are that the amendment will disfranchise the "poor white man," and these hired republican legal opinions say that the amendment is unconstitutional because it discriminates against the negro—that it will disfranchise the ignorant negro but will not touch the ignorant white man. And thus they are contradicting their own arguments. The republican papers, just after the last election, were all in favor of some amendment that would take the negro out of politics. Now they rant and charge because, they claim, the amendment will put the negro out of politics, but won't effect the white man. One naturally infers from their arguments that if the amendment had been framed so as to not interfere with the negro, but disfranchised the poor democratic white people, it would have been all right. The fact is, these hired republican politicians can't be honest about any important question.—Wilkesboro Chronicle.

Is It Right for an Editor to Recommend Patent Medicines?

From Sylvan Valley News, Brevard, N. C.

It may be a question whether the editor of a newspaper has the right to publicly recommend any of the various proprietary medicines which flood the market, yet as a preventive of suffering we feel it a duty to say a good word for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We have known and used this remedy in our family for twenty years and have always found it reliable. In many cases a dose of this remedy would save hours of suffering while a physician is awaited. We do not believe in depending implicitly on any medicine for a cure, but we do believe that if a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy were kept on hand and administered at the inception of an attack much suffering might be avoided and in very many cases the presence of a physician would not be required. At least this has been our experience during the past twenty years. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

A Famous Poison Mystery.

England had a famous poison mystery a quarter of a century ago. Two members of a great club in Manchester, both men of position and keen politicians, each received, apparently as a New Year's gift, small boxes containing a few cigars of the very highest quality. Both were taken fearfully ill after smoking, and one of them subsequently died. The cigars were found to be loaded with poison, and it was said that the man who recovered only did so because he used a cigar holder. The facts were at first hushed up, because, as was said, the suspected sender, whose motive was revenge on account of a lady, was a man of wealth and power. But this subject was cleared, and the mystery was deepened by the following circumstances: A rich Manchester merchant, traveling one day in a railway car about the time of the incident, got into conversation with a most agreeable and highly cultivated stranger, who finally offered his cigar case. The Manchester man was found at Leeds almost unconscious and the only occupant of the carriage. He grasped in one of his convulsed hands the cigar he had been smoking and after analysis showed it to be identical with the others. He recovered, but the stranger was never discovered.

A Bad Place For Fat Men.

Among the ancient Spartans everything was considered secondary to military efficiency, and with a view to securing this the boys and men were by law kept in a continual state of "training." No deformed child was allowed to live. The boys were taken from their homes and subjected to military regulations at the age of 7. They were compelled to wear the same single garment winter and summer. At 20 they joined the ranks, and from that age till they reached 60 were required to dine at the public tables, where only a certain quantity was supplied for each man. The magistrates interfered in absurdly small matters. They regulated the degree of fatness to which it was lawful for any citizen to extend his body.

Those who dared to grow too fat or too soft for military service and exercise were sometimes soundly flogged. Aelian, in his history, relates that Naxos, son of Polybus, was brought before the ephors (magistrates) and the whole assembly of Sparta, and "his unlawful fatness" was publicly exposed, and he was threatened with perpetual banishment if he did not bring his body within the regular Spartan compass and give up the culpable mode of living, which was declared to be more worthy of an Ionian than a Spartan.

SOME INTERESTING REMARKS

By Prof. J. A. Bandy on Mecklenburg's Good Roads.

Prof. J. A. Bandy returned this morning from Charlotte, where he went to attend the good roads congress. Prof. Bandy is carried away with Mecklenburg's good roads, and returns inspired to greater efforts to help revolutionize road building in Guilford county. We asked him for a few remarks in regard to what he heard and saw while in Charlotte. He spoke interestingly as follows:

"The half has never been told about Mecklenburg's good roads. They extend in all directions for eight or nine miles from Charlotte. The county has the best plants in the way of steam crushers and steam rollers that I have ever seen. To show the nature of the work they can do with their plant, they spiked up one half mile of macadam road yesterday morning, doing in three-quarters of an hour (with seven-five convicts) the work of 200 with picks, for a period of ten days. This spiking a road is done by putting spikes in the broad tire of the roller, and for the purpose of renewing the macadam on a piece of road where the macadam has worn out. In this particular case the macadam had been down for twelve years. It was in a fair state of preservation; but to afford the road congress an opportunity of seeing this kind of work done the engineer in charge tore up and rebuilt this much used road in three-quarters of an hour. This serves to give a slight idea of how well equipped they are to do work. Their roads have twelve feet of macadam in the center, with two dirt tracks on either side where the road is wide. A few of their roads have the macadam on one side of the dirt track. These roads are in the very best condition, equal in finish to any in the United States. This last statement was made by Gen. Stone, who was on the ground and had inspected the roads. This means a great deal when we consider Gen. Stone's ability to judge.

"As to some of the effects of good roads: Twelve years ago, when the work began, there were three dairies within two miles of the city of Charlotte. Now, a woman living ten miles from Charlotte has fitted up a rig and brings her milk and butter into town every morning. Dairying is a large business, extending itself out in all directions from Charlotte to the distance of ten miles. Poultry raising and trucking are growing industries, yielding a good profit to people who before the roads were improved were merely living. During the worst weather last winter when wagons loaded with wood passed Capt. Alexander's, who lives seven miles from Charlotte, during one morning. This wood had been loaded several miles beyond Capt. Alexander's.

"By virtue of these improved roads the mechanics and other people of Charlotte can purchase wood at such a reduced cost that the saving more than pays their road tax. Compare this, if you please, with Greensboro, cut off from the country, and paying exorbitant prices for wood."

THE MONUMENT TO GRAVES.

Directors of N. C. R. R. Appropriate
$500 For It.

The new board of directors of the North Carolina Railway Company yesterday revived the question of erecting a monument to Calvin S.
Graves, of Caswell county, who as president of the senate gave the deciding vote for the appropriation for the North Carolina Railroad, thereby ruining his political career.

The board appropriated $500 for the purpose of erecting the monument, which is to be located in this city.
The site has not been definitely decided upon, though it is believed that the monument will be erected somewhere near the depot.

The stockholders of the North Carolina road have long wanted to erect a memorial to the fearless senator, but until yesterday, the matter was put off at every meeting.
